1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Miller (newly cited). Miller discloses the claimed structure including a displacement hull with a converging-diverging diffuser (note Figure 2, for example), the exterior of the hull not substantially constant of cross section along the hull length (note Figure 1).

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miller in view of Grant. Miller does not disclose an ice breaker. Grant teaches a substantially convex, chevron shaped plow B for breaking ice. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the hull of Miller with an ice breaking plow for improved protection against ice as taught by Grant.

3. Claims 1-7 are allowed.

Art Unit: 3617

4. Claims 12-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kort shows a hull.

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 8-11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
